

Kaidoku

In a kaidoku (aka “coded crossword”) each letter of the alphabet is represented by a number in the grid. Use letter frequency, pattern recognition, and whatever other codebreaking tools you can conjure up to fill the grid with uncapitalized, non-hyphenated dictionary words.

26	16	9	14	17	9	16	26		6	23	11	22
20		16		20		8		14		7		16
19	20	26	12	1	16	16		10	26	20	6	6
15		10		22		2		6		23		15
	10	14	14		3	1	13	13	7	11	18	11
22		6		22		17		1				6
16	17	16	9	16	18		2	26	20	15	15	16
4				18		22		16		26		22
16	8	16	6	11	21	7	4		10	16	16
13		5		3		20		7		19		21
4	24	11	13	16		26	16	20	17	11	3	16
16		17		18		19		25		16		26
22	16	16	22		19	20	26	25	14	26	20	19

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26